REAL ISSUES

Vaginal tissue, like the skin, changes over time and loses its youthful strength and vitality. This leads to a variety of common, bothersome conditions.

Looseness at the introitus, or opening, can cause a significant loss of pleasurable sensation and satisfaction with intercourse. Pregnancy and vaginal delivery can lead to stress urinary incontinence.

Vaginal laxity is the #1 reported physical change post-childbirth

THE SCIENCE OF SATISFACTION

Viveve leads the way as a global innovator in women's health and wellness.

The Viveve® system, delivers Cryogen-cooled monopolar RF (CMRF) energy deep into soft tissue while protecting the delicate surface tissue.

It is the first in the category to complete a randomized, placebo controlled study showing statistically significant outcomes and safety.
